

Choosing Love

A Fresh and Empowering Perspective On the Power of Choice

Free will is the super power that God gave to all human beings. It is what determines your experience of reality. It is this super power that you will eventually use to align your consciousness and energy with Universal Love rather than with the separate ego.

The fulfillment of your destiny to be in Communion with a Higher Joy and Love is entirely dependent on what you choose at the deepest level of your being

The dawning of a new era requires a new paradigm. In order to fully open to the evolutionary imperatives and blessings present at this time, you must be willing to see beyond old perspectives. You must be willing to let go of cherished ideas about yourself and spirituality. An appropriate paradigm for these unprecedented times of accelerated transformation cannot be based on outdated beliefs nor conjured by the mind's imaginary hopes and dreams.

Truth is revealed through asking relevant questions and answering them in a fresh, accurate and sincere manner

One of the most provocative and potentially liberating questions you can ask is, “Why am I choosing to resist the ever-present Universal Energy of Love?” This question affirms the truth that Love is the Energy and Intelligence infused throughout the entire Universe, without exception. Therefore, it acknowledges that if you do not experience this ever-present Reality, then the determining factor is not in God or in the structure of the cosmos, but within you.

Awakening is not reserved for only a few special individuals, nor it is the result of heredity, favorable upbringing or positive circumstances over which you are powerless. In fact, ALL such false assumptions about why you are not Awakened, are designed to hide a fundamental truth. The truth is that Awakening to the ever-presence of Love is entirely dependent upon what you CHOOSE. That is the only cogent factor. This is a very empowering realization.

If you are the one choosing to be separate, then you have the power to choose to come into Communion with a Universal Love

The reason it doesn't feel like a choice is because it is buried beneath the drama of the ego's fears and attachments.

Fear and the resulting suffering is BOTH a ploy to keep this choice hidden from you, as well as the result of this decision

This deepest of all choices is the only one that truly matters, because it is the only factor which determines whether you live in an illusory bubble of contraction, fear and melodrama, or are at One with the stunning splendor of Life.

However, this decision is the ultimate dilemma for the ego because the ego wants God's Love and Power to compensate for its feeling of inadequacy. But it is precisely this insecurity that drives it to prop itself up, through judgment of self and others, which causes the separation from God. The quandary is that exposing yourself to God's Love would totally expose that inadequacy.

Choosing to align with God would be in complete contradiction to the life purpose thus far of protecting, promoting and preserving the fear-ridden separate egoic self

For now, you don't need to come to any conclusions or have any discernible breakthroughs. Simply allow these perspectives and the Liberating Energy infused within the message to wash over and through you. Honoring whatever you are seeing and choosing is already Liberating. Clear Seeing and self-appreciation will allow the natural merging to begin.

Becoming AWARE of the hidden ways in which you are using your free will is the real “secret,” for there is no other power in the Universe that is capable of aligning and merging you with God

If and when you choose to surrender your ego to a Higher Love and Power, that will be the final decision of consequence that you will ever make. After that, the only relevant choice will be about how to be the best possible conduit for the Divine. Choosing to serve and merge in this way is the only way out of a life of illusion and insecurity. It will mark the beginning of Real Life, deeply rooted in profound Peace, Unconditional Love, and Seeing, as well as Being, the Energetic Radiance of God.
